Ambition

Paleontology has always been a major passion of mine. My ambition lies in research but equally so in education. Paleontology is sometimes perceived as old fashioned and inaccurate guesswork, despite very modern research methods used. I want to change this commonly held opinion, and valorize current insights to demonstrate the virtues of modern palaeontology. I have always found that dinosaurs and dinosaur research can be excellent vectors to explain complex scientific questions and modern research methods to laymen, and a more than often very young audience. This helps bring scientific literacy to youngsters that may otherwise not be interested in science.

Professional experience

- 2020 – present: Educational service of the Royal Belgian Institute of Natural Sciences (RBINS)
- 2022 March: Parental leave
- 2021 – 2022: Postdoctoral researcher at RBINS (Belspo funded 20%)
- 2020 – 2022: Scientific collaborator, Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium
- 2020 March: Parental leave
- 2014 – 2020: Senior postdoctoral researcher, Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium
- 2014 – 2020: Scientific collaborator of the RBINS, Brussels, Belgium.
- 2017 – 2018: Guest lecturer, Opole University, Poland.
- 2013 – 2014: Postdoctoral researcher, Museum für Naturkunde, Berlin, Germany
- 2011- 2013: Postdoctoral researcher. University of Bonn Germany
- 2007 – 2011: PhD researcher, University of Bonn, Germany
- 2006 – 2007: Ad interim, natural sciences teacher. Leonardo Lyceum Olympiade, Antwerp, Belgium

Education

- PhD (Dr. rer. nat., magna cum laude). University of Bonn, Germany 2011
- MSc in Palaeobiology, with Distinction. University of Bristol, England 2007
- Master in Geology, with Distinction. University of Ghent, Belgium 2005
- Candidate in Geology. Free University of Brussels, Belgium 2003
- May 2003: Impact Stratigraphy Short Course, funded by European Science Foundation. Gubbio, Italy
- Secondary School Fine Arts Degree (obtained June 2001), Academie voor Beeldende Kunsten. Hoboken, Antwerpen, Belgium.

Funded grant applications

2021 – 2022: Postdoctoral researcher at RBINS in the project: “Shepherding the “Belle Epoque” Bernissart Iguanodon collection into the 21st century: Iguanodon 2.0” (Belspo funded, 20% position)

2017 – 2020: Senior postdoctoral researcher, Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium: “Paleohistology and histochemistry of fossil dinosaur bone cells, theropod medullary bone tissue and hadrosaur dental tissues” (FWO funded)

2014 – 2017: Postdoctoral researcher Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium: “CSI Hadrosaurs: Evolution, ecology and extinction of the last megaherbivores of the latest Cretaceous” (FWO funded)

2013 – 2014: Postdoctoral researcher, Museum für Naturkunde, Berlin, Germany: The origin of the giant salamander genome. Can we trace it in the fossil record? (DFG funded)

2011- 2013: Postdoctoral researcher, University of Bonn Germany: Tracing the origin of dinosaurian high metabolic rates in ancestral archosaurs (DFG funded)

2007 – 2011: PhD researcher, University of Bonn, Germany: Long bone histology and growth in the sauropod dinosaurs (DFG funded)

Continued education

- March 2016 One week Transmitting Science workshop “Using Phytools (and other R packages) to Study Macroevolution on Phylogenies”. Taught by Liam Revell at El Hostalets De Pierola, Spain.
- September 2012 Two days workshop “Molecular clocks and the Fossil Record”. Organized by Johannes Müller, Museum für Naturkunde, Berlin, Germany.
- December 2009 Three days “Paleohistology” workshop. Organized by Kevin Padian at the National Evolutionary Synthesis Centre, Duke University, North Carolina, USA.

Professional meeting organization

- 1-6 July 2019, Organising and Scientific Committee of the 17th annual meeting of the European Association of Vertebrate Palaeontologists at the Royal Belgian Institute of Natural Sciences, Brussels, Belgium.
- 12 – 16 September 2017, Scientific and Organising Committee of the 8th Bone Diagenesis meeting in Oxford, United Kingdom.
- 31 July – 4 August 2017, Scientific Committee of the European Association of Vertebrate Palaeontologists Annual Meeting. Munich, Germany
- 2-7 July 2015, Hosting and Scientific Committee of the Third International Symposium of Paleohistology, held at the Steinmann Institut in Bonn, Germany.
- 15 November 2012, Organizer of the Symposium on palaeohistology at the Steinmann Institut in Bonn, Germany. In honour of Robert Curtius award to Prof. Dr. Em. Armand de Ricqlès of Collège de France, Paris.

- ArCPIG Outreach activities: Archaeology, Conservation and Palaeontology Interdisciplinary Group, <http://arcpigvub.wix.com/arcpig>. “Van Indiana Jones tot Labotechnieken” organised at the VUB for high school children (ages 16-18). Our activity on the Dag van de Wetenschap on 27/11/2016 was a tremendous success with more than seven hundred visitors to the VUB Health Campus (<http://we.vub.ac.be/en/science-comes-life-dag-van-de-wetenschap>). On 14-22/07/2017 ArCPIG organized a course for the Board of European Students of Technology: ‘Let’s carbon date and celebrate: a new take on archaeology’ (<https://best.eu.org/event/details.jsp?activity=i4kfkkr>). The course generated high interest, and ~30 students from different European cities participated on this first edition.
